Two Development agencies for some target groups

2169. SHRI SURYABHAN PATIL VAHADANE: Will the Minister of WELFARE be pleased to state:

(a) whether several rural development schemes reserve a component of their scheme for the benefit of SC/ST and other weaker Sections;

(b) if so, why there is a need for Special Central Assistance to the special component plan for SCs in the State schemes (SCA-SCP-SCs);

(c) whether the "SCA-SCP-SCs" does not lost only to create two different agencies for the same targeted group as the objective could be achieved by reinforcing the fund under other development schemes; and

(d) what actions have been taken for checking fraud, withdrawal and to avoid overlapping of targeted families under different schemes?

THE MINISTER OF WELFARE (SHRI BALWANT SINGH RAMOOWALIA): (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) and (c) The SC community suffered from and continues to suffer from below poverty line economic status, poor asset base, dependence on wage labour, subsistance farming, share cropping, unclean occupation with attendant social and civil disabilities. The Special Component Plan (SCP) strategy of the Government was evolved with the objective of overall development of SCs to bring them above the poverty line and into the mainstream life with equal social and economic status with other sections of the population. SC is envisaged to channelise the flow of outlays and benefits from the general sectors in the Plans of States and Central Ministries, at least in proportion to their population both in physical and financial terms. Special Central Assistance (SCA) is provided to States as an additive to their SCPs for Scheduled Castes. States have to utilise SCA funds in conjuction with their SCPs on economic development activities programmes for SCs under various sectors, particularly in the core sectors like agriculture, animal husbandry, village and cottage industries, sericulture, etc. SCA is to give an added thrust to family oriented schemes of economic development of SCs by providing vital missing inputs, so that schemes could be more meaningful. SCA is an important instrument for the poverty alleviation among SCs. The strategy of SCP itself implies development of SCs from all sectors of development in the Plans of States and Central Ministries. As such, the question of SCA leading to creation of two different agencies for the same target group does not arise.

(d) Through scrutiny of utilisation of SCA funds under various sectors/schemes is carried out through annual progress report on utilisation of SCA funds and physical achievements under the schemes, furnished by the State Govts. in prescribed proforma devised for the purpose. SC families economically assisted under Integrated Rural Development Programme (IRDP) and non IRDP are monitored under Point II A of Twenty Point Programme.
